

What's Ma

Afraid Of?

INTEROPERABILITY

Vincent D McBride
619.288.1753
mcbride222@gmail.com

October 12, 2012

Marlene H. Dortch, Secretary
Federal Communications Commission
445 12th Street, SW
Room TWA325
Washington, DC 20554

Dear Ms. Dortch:

We Are

The Phone Company!

Freedom in America, world strength and leadership by America are now at a crossroads in the wireless community! Alongside the impressive technological advances of the last two decades, a pall has descended by companies who want to stop competition and create a monopoly using their giant size as a destructive weapon.

Interoperability is a standard essential in the wireless business model. By creating boundaries we deprive society from crucial connecting from town to town and person to person. How can a well-functioning telecommunications sector grow on an outmoded model to prevent Americans from having choices in the marketplace? There needs to be public outcry toward this unjust ability of monopolistic companies preventing the overwhelming benefits of interoperability in our country.

Very truly yours,

Vincent D McBride
Managing Member
McBride Spectrum Partners